Second Masterclass in Artificial Intelligence

Royal Society of Medicine, April 20ᵗʰ 2024
In Collaboration with the University of Toronto and Moorfields Surgeons

Feedback from Delegates
(unedited)

One of the better conferences I have attended, I look forward to the next one

Great speakers, very well organised. A big thank you!

Great range of speakers, well organised and great interaction with the audience

Excellent timing to the talks and ran like clockwork. Very good organisation. Well done.

Best conference on this subject that I have attended in years

Very insightful information from inspirational speakers

Short punchy time slots for speakers covering background, current advances and future clinical applications.

All lectures were short and digestible, very easy to sit through! Fantastic lecture by Geoffrey Hinton and group of delegates/speakers. Catering was very good

One of the highlights of the AI conference was witnessing the innovative applications of artificial intelligence in ophthalmology, particularly how it's revolutionizing diagnostics and treatment methods for various eye conditions.

High level of speakers

The conference was cutting-edge and I enjoyed all the sessions

A friendly environment, with the ability to openly discuss ideas, and the quality of the speakers

Great speakers, interesting topics

The high-profile speakers, reporting on real-world experiences with AI in medical practice, as well as the keynote by Prof Hinton.

Great insight into innovation in the field and an opportunity to collaborate with international professionals

Guest speakers were extremely high quality.
Short format of the talks with a clear progression of the theme and expert panels.
Excellent time keeping in general

It was an excellent day – truly innovative program, huge amount of new information and excellent discussion.

Very interesting talks great speakers pitched at good level

I enjoyed every bit of it, good start in the morning, bringing everyone on the same page, brilliant keynote lecture, fantastic transformative presentation about seeing AI

Great range of talks from eminent speakers. The best speakers for each of the topics

A great mix of speakers, with talks building well on the knowledge gained from earlier in the meeting

I least enjoyed the fact that it wasn't long enough!

I attended virtually and it worked well for me. I don't have any negative comments

I found this one of the most interesting conferences I have attended recently, so I enjoyed it all!

It could have been two days!

A fantastic event in a great venue and a great organising committee. A very grand venue for the gala dinner

Well-moderated throughout

We need more of similar events. Thank you for organising such a wonderful event in London. It has inspired me to think about working for St John N.B.: Every registrant who responded to the questionnaire indicated that they would recommend the Masterclass to a colleague. 56% indicated they were 'very satisfied', and 44% 'satisfied'. No registrant indicated they were dissatisfied.